

EXECUTIVE LEADERSHIP SERIES 2023

The Executive Leadership Series offers a comprehensive 5-week course that provides experienced professionals with the opportunity to refine their leadership skills while fostering connections with peers. This unique program is designed to elevate participants' leadership brand through a diverse curriculum covering essential topics such as communication, diversity, equity, and inclusion, teambuilding, self-care and wellness, courageous conversations, and more.

Delivered through a combination of instructional, experiential, group learning, and reflection activities, the Executive Leadership Series ensures a dynamic and engaging learning experience. Each class session spans a full day, including lunch and a networking dinner experience, concluding no later than 8:00 pm. By rotating locations throughout Long Beach for each session, participants have the chance to forge connections within the local community while exploring different environments conducive to learning and collaboration.

The program's deliberate focus on maintaining small class sizes facilitates increased interaction among participants, fostering meaningful discussions and connections. Geared towards executive leaders and aspiring executives within Long Beach organizations and companies, this series provides a tailored experience aimed at enhancing leadership capabilities and fostering professional growth in a supportive and collaborative environment.
